

SCATS AND TRACKS WORKSHOP

Details:

Time: 6.30 pm

When: Thursday 6th November 2008

Where: Teesdale Community Hall

Cost: FREE, supper provided

Registration: Required, details below

What is it all about?

How can you tell if your patch of bush is healthy and supporting wildlife? Find out what fauna is living in your area – be a wildlife detective! You will learn about:

Traps – types and permits

Scats – what fauna is present and what they are eating

Tracks – basic identification.

Who is involved?

Our speaker Matt Gibson, Environmental Scientist from Ballarat University will share his skills and knowledge about native fauna – their tracks and scats!
