John lives alone just outside of town. He can't do as much as he used in the garden. He has very few friends and his grown up children have moved interstate. His neighbours are new and hardly ever around...

What will happen to John in a bushfire?

Jenny lives deep in the bush at the end of a dirt road. She keeps to herself and doesn't belong to any community groups in town. Neighbours think she might have a son, but they hardly ever see him...

What if Jenny needs help in a bushfire?
